The Radnor Victor-style line of regulators and outfits are taking advantage of new design advancements to provide users greater performance and value. Their enhanced design delivers superior performance including:

- Safety – Ergonomic, easy to adjust color-coded knobs that identify gas type
- Performance – Fabric reinforced neoprene diaphragm for optimal performance
- Reliability – Zinc-aluminum housing cap yielding twice the strength of brass
- Environmental – “Green” environmentally friendly packaging

Design, construction and performance of the series benefit from:

- Single-stage design delivers excellent performance
- Forged brass body increases durability
- Robust stem type seat mechanism ensures long regulator life
- Powder coated zinc aluminum bonnet provides increased strength
- 2” dual scale gauges display easy-to-read graphics

Like all Victor gas equipment, these new regulators and outfits provide superior quality and reliability. Victor is the name synonymous with safe, reliable performance – with a long standing reputation for manufacturing excellence and superior service. And most important, the new Radnor Victor-style regulators and outfits offer all these improvements at the same price as previous models.
